DEFENDING THE CURRENCIES

Isa Schwartz Gesseau and Mbongeni Fakudze invite you to a private preview
Wednesday 16 June 2021, 12h00–16h00
August House, 76 End Street, Doornfontein Johannesburg

Mbongeni has created a 35 meter canvas art installation that will be eventually cut into art works for a show later on in the year at the Alliance Française. We are very excited to invite you to a private preview down town into Mbongeni's studio at August House to view this exciting creation of his recently completed artwork.

About the artwork and the artist: Mbongeni Fakudze is a full time artist that works at August House. He started working with Isa from iBi Art during lock down last year. He has predominantly been working with the theme of women and started creating this new art piece when he got back from Swaziland late March. The work speaks about authority and power created by currencies. We fear its lack. He has created iconic portraits of male and female icons that are leaders in Africa on one long canvas. They are leaders known for their cruelty, engagement, provocation, kindness, care and support of communities all defending the currencies in their countries linked to the dollar.
